FOR THE SECOND YEAR IN A ROW, HUDSON VALLEY CONTINUING CARE RETIREMENT COMMUNITY SKILLED NURSING FACILITY FIRST IN THE NATION FOR TO ACHIEVE HUMAN RIGHTS CAMPAIGN 'LGBTQ HEALTHCARE EQUALITY LEADER' STATUS FOR

NEW PALTZ, N.Y., September 20, 2019 – It should be no surprise to those familiar with the Hudson Valley of New York that the premier continuing care retirement community in the region would place great focus on marrying the highest levels of hospitality and long term care with inclusivity for all its residents, staff, and stakeholders. For the second year in a row, these combined efforts have resulted in the skilled nursing facility at Woodland Pond at New Paltz being named a “Healthcare Equality Index LGBTQ Healthcare Leader” by the Human Rights Campaign Foundation. First accomplished in the spring of 2018, and now again, Woodland Pond boasts the only such skilled nursing facility as part of a continuing care retirement community that has achieved this highly coveted honor.

“Woodland Pond at New Paltz values inclusivity and person-centered care fundamentally, and the fact that we have accomplished what no other continuing care retirement community in the country has, is testament to our commitment to offering the most welcoming and supportive environment for retirees and long term care residents,” says Michelle Gramoglia, the President and CEO. “For ours to be the only continuing care retirement community based skilled nursing community to achieve this honor in 2018, and repeat the feat again in 2019, is just incredible.”

Organizations seeking to be considered for the “Healthcare Equality Index Leader” honor must meet rigorous prescriptive goals. The Human Rights Campaign Foundation then provides a score based on how the facility achieved the stated goals in four different areas. Woodland Pond scored 100 out of 100 points on this assessment. The first criteria consists of the foundational elements of LGBTQ patient-centered care. The three remaining criteria are Patient Services and Support, Employee Benefits and Policies, and Patient and Community Engagement.

“We have a diverse population of residents, staff, and guests, many of which openly identify as members of the LGBTQ community, including many that identify as transgender or non-binary. We want to publicly embrace and support the needs of these residents through our person-centered care approach, but also for their neighbors that may privately identify as a member of the LGBTQ community. Every resident and staff person should feel fundamentally supported regardless of how they identify themselves, and regardless of whether they ‘have come out,’” says Philip Mehl, the champion of this effort to achieve HEI Leader status, and Director of Long Term Care at Woodland Pond at New Paltz.

“Being able to demonstrate to our staff, residents, and visitors that we are committed to actively embracing and supporting the care needs of residents in the LGBTQ community is absolutely crucial to me, and to our leadership team as a whole. It was not enough for us just to be able to demonstrate these commitments in the skilled nursing environment: through the process of applying for “Healthcare Equality Leader” status, we made sure that our policies, programs, training, and supportive messaging have been ingrained into every aspect of Woodland Pond. We have developed tools and techniques that assist our team in planning for the care of the residents, have spent time training on the ‘right’ and ‘wrong’ vocabulary to use, the best ways to make residents and staff feel comfortable that Woodland Pond supports their sexuality, regardless of what it is,” Mr. Mehl goes on to say.
